

About Susan Young

Susan Young, President of Get in Front Communications and Susan Young Media Relations, Inc., has been in the news and communications industry for 25 years. She is an award-winning radio news director, reporter and on-air anchor. Susan was also Deputy Director of NJ Governor Christie Whitman's Office of Radio and Television and was public relations director of a statewide non-profit.

Susan is a member of the National Speakers Association and is a certified practitioner in Neurolinguistic Programming (NLP). Through Get in Front Communications she provides college and corporate training programs, workshops and keynote addresses on interpersonal communication, sales, motivation and proactive public relations. She is the self-proclaimed "Queen of Four Letter Words for Success."

Her nine-year-old PR firm, with offices in East Brunswick, NJ and San Antonio, TX, helps to increase publicity, name recognition and revenues for businesses, non-profits and associations. Susan's clients have dubbed her "The Media Magician." Others say she should be a stand-up comedian.

Susan has been honored as "Entrepreneur of the Year" by the Edison, NJ Chamber of Commerce. She is the author of Communicating with Confidence: Tips & Techniques for Powerful Business Communication. She has been featured in The San Antonio Express-News, San Antonio Business Journal, Women's US Biz, NJ Biz, The Star Ledger and three times on "The Wall Street Journal This Morning" Radio Network.

Susan publishes a free, monthly electronic newsletter on public relations titled Life's A Pitch. In addition, she e-mails a weekly motivational quote called Just A Thought.
